Entrance Antiphon (chanted by schola): Psalm 83: 10-11 and 2-3

Behold, O God, our protector, and look upon the face of your Christ. For better is one day in your courts above thousands. (Vv. 2-3): How lovely are your tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longs and faints for the courts of the Lord. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. Behold, O God, our protector, and look upon the face of your Christ. For better is one day in your courts above thousands.

Deus, qui diligentibus te bona invisibilia praeparasti, infunde cordibus nostris tui amoris affectum, ut, te in omnibus et super omnia diligentes, promissiones tuas, quae omne desiderium superant, consequamur. Per Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum Filium tuum, qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate Spiritus Sancti, Deus, per omnia saecula saeculorum. Amen.

Opening Prayer

God our Father, for those who love you you have prepared gifts which the eye cannot see. Pour into our hearts the fullness of your love, so that we may love you in all things and above all things, and may come to possess what you have promised, which surpasses anything we could desire. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

Praefatio VIII de Dominicis

Vere dignum et iustum est, aequum et salutare, nos tibi semper et ubique gratias agere, Domine, sancte Pater, omnipotens aeternae Deus. Quia filios, quos longe peccati crimen abstulerat, per sanguinem Filii tui Spiritusque virtute, in unum ad te denuo congregare voluisti: ut plebs, de unitate Trinitatis adunata, in tuae laudem sapientiae multiformis Christi corpus templumque Spiritus nosceretur Ecclesia. Et ideo, choris angelicis sociati, te laudamus in gaudio confitentes: [sequitur ‘Sanctus’]

Eighth Preface of Sundays

It is truly fitting and just, right and salutary, that we give you thanks always and everywhere, Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God. For by the blood of your Son, and the power of your Spirit, you willed to gather together unto yourself in unity once more those children of yours whom the stain of sin had scattered far and wide. Thus a people would be made one by means of the unity of the Blessed Trinity, and would, to the praise of your manifold wisdom, be known as the Body of Christ, the Temple of the Spirit: the Church. And therefore, joined with choirs of Angels, we praise and proclaim you in joy [followed by ‘Sanctus’]:

Seek first the kingdom of God, and all the rest will be given to you in addition, says the Lord.

Post Communionem

Per haec sacramenta, Domine, Christi participes effecti, clementiam tuam humiliter imploramus, ut, eius imaginis conformes in terris, et eius consortes in caelis fieri merceanur. Per Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

Post-Communion Prayer

Lord, through these sacraments we have been made sharers in Christ himself. We humbly ask that in your mercy we may become like him on earth, and thus deserve to become his companions in heaven. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.
